FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASELifeStream Digital Innovations and Sparrow Consulting Announce Partnership to Support Military Service Members, Veterans, and Their Families

LifeStream Digital Innovations and Sparrow Consulting today announced a strategic partnership focused on supporting transitioning military service members, veterans, and their families through career readiness, storytelling, and workforce integration solutions.

The collaboration combines LifeStream Digital's innovative digital portfolio platform with Sparrow Consulting's expertise in veteran hiring, military workforce integration, career services, and employer engagement.

Together, the organizations aim to help military-connected individuals better translate their military experience into civilian opportunities while preserving the stories, accomplishments, and milestones that define their journeys.

LifeStream Digital allows users to securely organize and showcase military records and certifications, awards and accomplishments, leadership experiences, photos, videos, career milestones, personal achievements, family memories, and more. Unlike a traditional resume, the platform provides a dynamic, visual portfolio that helps veterans demonstrate leadership, adaptability, and real-world impact.

The platform also supports military and highly mobile families by helping children and students capture academic projects, extracurricular activities, achievements, and experiences that support future college and career readiness. For military, expatriate, and frequently relocating families, LifeStream provides a secure way to preserve meaningful memories, milestones, and important projects digitally, without the need for physical storage space that often becomes difficult during moves and transitions.

"Military members and veterans have incredible experience and leadership skills that often aren't fully reflected on a traditional resume," said Anne Sullivan, Founder of LifeStream Digital Innovations. "Our partnership with Sparrow Consulting helps individuals and families preserve their stories, organize important experiences, and create opportunities for the future."

Sparrow Consulting connects military talent with employers committed to hiring veterans and service members. The organization provides HR consulting, training, workshops, talent acquisition support, DEIB strategies, networking events, and career services designed to create successful civilian transitions.

"At Sparrow Consulting, we are passionate about helping employers recognize the value military talent brings to the workforce," said Janine Smith, Founder of Sparrow Consulting. "Partnering with LifeStream Digital gives service members and veterans a powerful tool to showcase their experience while helping employers better understand their strengths and potential."

The partnership will include collaborative workshops, career development initiatives, networking opportunities, and employer engagement programs that support military communities nationwide.
